- (b.) Provide a detailed description of the results/effectiveness of the annual program self-evaluation. (Note: A summation statement on the effectiveness/success of the district's GT program in the academics as well as the arts will suffice.)
- We distribute a teacher survey in the Spring and ask teachers to reflect on the school year, and the activities allowed to students throughout the school year. Teachers are asked what they felt worked and what did not, and their suggestions for wishes and improvements for the following school year.
- We distribute a parent Survey in the Spring, as well as hold individual ILP meetings with parents and students throughout the year. From the surveys and parent feedback, we are able to ask what parents feel is working, and what is not.

For both of these, we determined the program is effective as it stands.

- (c.) Include how program effectiveness was determined.
- By meeting with parents, teachers, and students, we are able to reflect on the effectiveness of the program, and make adjustments as necessary.
- We discuss within these meetings what additional programming may be necessary, and whether or not we all feel student needs are being met. Principals are also involved in these meetings, and participate in the decisions that are made there.
- 8. Provide a justification/description of the items included in the proposed budget in number 9. 5% of the Curriculum Coordinator's job description and time is the overseeing and implementation of the Gifted and Talented Program.
- Materials, books, and supplies are ordered by the Curriculum Coordinator for the program also, as the program determines, whether it be more advanced math books for students, art supplies, or specific sheet music.
- The three field trips for the Visual Arts students this year were to the Wilson Museum in Castine for a drawing/writing workshop, a clay workshop with artist Melody Lewis Kane at Peninsula Metamorphic Arts in Blue Hill, and a trip to the Farnsworth Museum in May to see the Andrew Wyeth Exhibit.

The Honors Music Festival is located in Ellsworth, Maine. The money included in the application is for the registration fee.
